

Spaces for People

Ward 04 Briefing - 002

Spaces for People will provide temporary walking and cycling infrastructure across the city to protect public health during COVID-19, by enabling safe physical distancing for essential journeys and exercise, in particular where there are space constraints or user safety concerns.

Providing short-term additional public space is also key to support business operation and recovery in both the city centre and at neighbourhood hubs by enabling safer access to shops and business premises, and the provision of queuing space.

Longer term, and once restrictions begin to ease, it is anticipated that walking and cycling will continue to be considered a safe and convenient mode of transport that benefits wellbeing and air quality.

Programme Update:

This update is to let you know what measures will be introduced in the near future. Full details of these short-term infrastructure changes will be added to the Spaces for People webpages at www.glasgow.gov.uk/spacesforpeople as soon as possible. These webpages also contain the most up to date information available regarding the programme, including phasing and FAQs.

Community Suggestions:

We are engaging widely with stakeholders and have set up a Commonplace mapping tool at www.glasgowspacesforpeople.commonplace.is Specific to Glasgow, this interactive platform enables online users to highlight 'pinch points' in their locality where temporary measures to support physical distancing could be introduced.
